

Study.com Donates Online Curriculum to Schools Impacted by COVID

Donation Information:

As a leader in online learning, Study.com helps more than 30 million teachers and students each month by providing online curriculum, resources and support. With a mission to make education more accessible, Study.com is committed to helping schools impacted by COVID19 by donating and heavily discounting Study.com membership access for those in need.

Study.com is donating 100,000 licenses (evaluated at $18M) to school districts and schools until the end of the school year to help K-12 U.S. public schools and school districts. Donation evaluated at over $18M. The teachers and classrooms that don't take advantage of this donation will be offered membership access at a significant discount.

Licenses will grant teachers and students full Study.com access to their robust library of eLearning resources to provide quality education with minimal interruption.

Discounted Access:

In addition to the donation, Study.com is offering a significant discount to individual teachers, schools and districts that exceed the criteria of the donation.

For more information contact: Tim Bieser, tbieser@study.com (408) 712-3214 or visit <https://study.com/academy/plans/coronavirus-relief.html>

What is Study.com?

- On-demand mobile and desktop access for all lessons
- 79,000+ video lessons across all subjects
- 12,000+ lesson plans and curriculum
- Online gradebook and dashboard to monitor student progress
- Expert training and support for teachers managing online classes
- Courses and lessons created by teachers and subject matter experts

