

THE POWER OF POSSIBILITY

SCHOOL PSYCHOLOGISTS: Helping children and youth thrive. In school. At home. In life.

www.nasponline.org / #SPAW2020

Help NASP Celebrate National School Psychology Week, November 9-13, 2020

During the week of November 9–13, 2020, schools and organizations throughout the country will celebrate National School Psychology Week (NSPW) to highlight the important work school psychologists do to help all students thrive. This year's theme is "The Power of Possibility," which conveys hope, growth, resilience, and renewal. We are using the hashtag #SPAW2020 and will be tapping into the "A" in SPAW to highlight different important concepts each day of the week. Thursday, November 10 is "Appreciation" day and a great day to join NASP in celebrating school psychologists in your schools and communities.

To show your support and appreciation for school psychologists, please feel free to use or adapt our social media prompts and graphics below throughout the week.

NSPW Allied Organizations Social Media Images

TWITTER:

School psychologists make a positive, lasting difference in children's lives. They are a vital part of the effort to help our children recognize the power of possibility. Thank you, school psychologists! #SPAW2020

Thank you, school psychologists, for working collaboratively with parents and teachers to support children's success. #SPAW2020

Thank you, school psychologists, for supporting students with mental health needs by providing counseling, skill instruction, and learning and support plans. #SPAW2020

School psychologists work to ensure the protection of the educational rights, opportunities, and well-being of all children, especially those whose voices have been muted, identities obscured, or needs ignored. Thank you, school psychologists. #SPAW2020

School psychologists help foster healthier schools by providing stress reduction programming for teachers and staff, which helps reduce teacher absenteeism, turnover, and burnout. #SPAW2020

November 9-13 is National School Psychology Week! Help @nasponline celebrate school psychologists for their dedication to helping children thrive. <https://bit.ly/2OCz7SI> #SPAW2020

FACEBOOK:

November 9-13 is National School Psychology Week (NSPW)! School psychologists make a positive, lasting difference in children's lives. They are a vital part of the effort to help our children recognize the power of possibility. Thank you, school psychologists, for working collaboratively with parents and teachers to support children's success. Help @nasponline celebrate school psychologists for their dedication to helping children thrive: <https://bit.ly/2OCz7SI>

Across the country, communities are coping with the consequences of social injustice: poverty, racism, inequity, violence, isolation, and economic segregation. These challenges undermine the capacity and well-being of our nation's most precious resource, our children. During National School Psychology Week (NSPW), we celebrate school psychologists working to ensure the protection of the educational rights, opportunities, and well-being of all children, especially those whose voices have been muted, identities obscured, or needs ignored: <https://bit.ly/2OCz7SI>

National School Psychology Week (NSPW) celebrates all school psychologists do to help children thrive. School psychologists are uniquely positioned in schools to facilitate the development, delivery, and monitoring of prompt, effective, and culturally responsive mental and behavioral health services of prevention and intervention. Thank you, school psychologists, for supporting students with mental health needs by providing counseling, skill instruction, and learning and support plans: <https://bit.ly/2OCz7SI>

INSTAGRAM:

School psychologists make a positive, lasting difference in children's lives. They are a vital part of the effort to help our children recognize the power of possibility. Thank you, school psychologists! #SPAW2020

Thank you, school psychologists, for working collaboratively with parents and teachers to support children's success. #SPAW2020

Thank you, school psychologists, for supporting students with mental health needs by providing counseling, skill instruction, and learning and support plans. #SPAW2020

School psychologists work to ensure the protection of the educational rights, opportunities, and well-being of all children, especially those whose voices have been muted, identities obscured, or needs ignored. Thank you, school psychologists. #SPAW2020

School psychologists help foster healthier schools by providing stress reduction programming for teachers and staff, which helps reduce teacher absenteeism, turnover, and burnout. #SPAW2020

For any additional inquiries please contact Manager, Communications & Social Media:
Rhylton@naspweb.org